

THE WREN'S NEST

Wren's Nest Publishing Co. FAQs

Q: What is The Wren's Nest?

A: The Wren's Nest is Atlanta's oldest house museum and the home of Joel Chandler Harris, author of the Brer Rabbit and Uncle Remus stories.

Q: Why do you have a publishing company? I mean, aren't you a museum?

A: This idea arose while collaborating with the directors of the Decatur Book Festival. We both wanted to find a way to appeal to teenagers. This project also corresponds directly with the mission of The Wren's Nest, which focuses on the legacy in literature Joel Chandler Harris began years ago.

Q: What kind of submissions are looking for, and from whom?

A: We accept short stories, non-fiction, poetry, and artwork. Really, anything less than 10 pages. The journal is written and published by high school students, so if you're not in high school, we can't accept your application or submission.

Q: How do I submit my work?

A: You can submit your work to the following email address:
WrensNestSubmissions@gmail.com

Q: By what date must pieces be submitted?

A: For right now we'll say June 14th; however, the sooner, the better!

Q: How can I apply to be an editor?

A: Go to wrensnestonline.com, click on the "Publishing" tab on the left, and download the "Summer Editor Application." Email that to us at amelia@wrensnestonline.com.

Q: What is the time commitment for an editor?

A: We meet about twice a week throughout the summer. Naturally, we're flexible and last year, thanks to the students, much of the work was done through online meetings. The editors are expected to be involved for about two and a half months.

Q: When will the literary journal be published?

A: Labor Day Weekend. Since we're working closely with the Decatur Book Festival, the journal will be published for the festival.

Q: How much will this camp cost the students?

A: The camp is free of charge as a service to the community by the Wren's Nest.

Q: Who receives the proceeds of the journal?

A: The proceeds go into covering the cost of the literary camp and the publishing, as well as next year's program.

1050 R. D. Abernathy Blvd SW
Atlanta, GA 30310
404-753-7735
404-753-8535 FAX
www.wrensnestonline.com

Please don't hesitate to contact us with any other questions at amelia@wrensnestonline.com. Enjoy Soy Nut Butter: Nutritious, Delicious, Fictitious and Vernacular!

